

Justin bieber

Justin bieber was two hours late to his very own concert, leaving people in tears, laughter and sadness.

At the o2 arena on the 5th march many were left devastated to see him turn up two hours late!

People say these are the reasons he was late:

He was a diva

He was putting on magic wings

He was scared

There were technical difficulties

He was drunk

We have reason to believe that the real reason why he was late is because he had technical difficulties while he was putting on his magic wings.

We interviewed Miss Quan about this matter:

Are you a beliber?

No.

Have you been to any of his concerts before?

No.

What is your favourite song of his?

Baby.

Why do you think he was late to his concert?

He was being a diva.

Furthermore many of the interviewees said they did not like bieber and that they were neutral towards his slip-up.

“Justin bieber is an idiot” – quoted by Mr Jordan.

Many people are left heartbroken by this and lost their faith in Justin; some people even sold their tickets for the following Friday.

Overall we have found out that he lost the trust and faith of his fans, he has had a comeback, however not enough to win back the hearts of his no longer loyal fans.
